Deborah Disney's Tavern
Ellicott City
Private

eighteenth century

Believed by local historians to date from the eighteenth century, Disney's Tavern's six bay wide, two and a half story high gabled roof stone covered with blocked cement structure is located on the north side of Main Street between the Talbott Lumber Yard and another brick building. Its second floor windows are all rectangular and double-hung, with twelve-over-eight lights. Those first floor windows resting in the two east bays of the south wall hold twelve-over-twelve lights.

Presently the building is a duplex with rectangular entrances located in its two central first floor bays, while a one story high wooden porch supported by three doric columns runs along the four central bays of its south wall.

Operated for over twenty years (1840-1862) as Deborah Disney's Tavern, it is one of the oldest and most historic landmarks of Ellicott Mills.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Deborah Disney Tavern is located on the north side of the upper part of Main Street, referred to in old plats as the Baltimore-Frederick Turnpike

Disney's Tavern is a six bay wide, two room deep, two and a half story high, gabled roof (running east-west) stone building covered with blocked out cement veneer with wide brick chimneys inset into its east and west walls and three gabled roof dormers holding rectangular, double-hung windows with twelve-over-eight lights, surmounted by pediments, resting in the gabled roof on its north and south elevations.

It has been divided into two houses and at one time may originally have been intended for two-family use.

Fenestration is rectangular, decorated with wooden sills, double-hung with twelve-over-twelve lights in the first two bays and six-over-six lights in the two west bays of the first floor, while all the second floor windows hold twelve-over-eight lights. The latter are proportionally scaled and vertically aligned to those windows on the first floor.

A flat roofed, one story high, open porch runs along the central four bays of the south facade, supported by three doric columns connected by a wooden railing. An entrance way on each side of the central column is approached by two stairways, one on each side, composed of four wooden steps and a granite base step. That on the east has a west side railing; that on the west has a railing on each side of the stairway. The two central bays hold rectangular entrance doors. That on the west is an open bible and cross paneled door, holding two lights and surmounted by a three light transom. Rectangular cellar doors rest in the east and west bays.

The east and west walls rest against the brick wall of 8294 Main Street and Talbott's Lumber Company respectively.

Two one story high shed roofed frame additions rest on each side of its north wall, leaving a one bay wide opening between these additions.

The west side's interior features original, random width floors, woodwork and open bible and cross paneled doors.

The small terraced yard in back slopes up toward Court Avenue, the west side of which features a white picket fence.

SPECIFIC DATES

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

On July 13, 1829 (14-599, Anne Arundel County) Disney's Tavern was conveyed by Charles W. Dorsey, trustee et al to William Lorman of the City and County of Baltimore, "together with all and singular, the building and improvements thereon."

On a plat in the Land Record Book on the division of George Ellicott's land, the present building is noted as a tavern. See attachment 4.

By the 17 June, 1840 (1-89) Deborah Disney had bought the tavern for $6,000 from William Lorman. Some of the neighboring tracts of land are mentioned in this deed such as Rebecca's Lot, Prestidges Folly and Bowden's Folly, as well as Good Neighbor. At this time in 1840 the property consisted of 10 acres and 5 square perches.

Deborah Disney operated her tavern for some twenty years. It was a favorite place for those who had jury duty and a focal point of the town. On February 5, 1862 Deborah Disney sold the property to John R. Clark (21-605) for $5,800.

Seven years later on June 1st, 1869 Mr. Clark sold the property to David Sprecker for $7,500. Mr. Sprecker held the property until 3 August 1885 (49-464) when he conveyed the land to Edward A. Talbott for $2,000 plus the payment of a $3,000 mortgage to John G. Rogers. This deed refers to a tract of land called "Mount Misery", and the buildings and improvements thereon.

Some ten years later on December 27, 1894 (62-466) Edward Alexander Talbott, Jr. and John Clark, executors of the will of Edward Alexander Talbott, Sr. conveyed the deed to the property to Edward A. Talbott, Jr. for $3,000. Mr. Talbott made this the base for his lumber and hardware business, still operating this building as a tavern.

Recent owners have been a Mr. William F. Lilly who left the property to his daughter, Mary J. Lilly who conveyed the west side of the building to Norman and Mary S. Betts on December 1, 1947. Twenty years later Mrs. Mary S. Betts sold the west side of the tavern to Harry and Janet Tamburo who run a fine fabric shop here and keep the old building in excellent condition.

Architecturally the building has merit. Despite alterations to the facade, one can still picture the imposing two and a half story, six bay wide stone building with its three gabled roof dormer windows dominating socially and structurally this section of Main Street.

For these reasons, Disney's Tavern, believed by local historians to date from as early as 1790 or thereabouts, should be considered for inclusion to the National Register and any future local landmark legislation.
